The Pinsa secret

Even the ancient Romans loved this light and fluffy dough dish! Pinsa dough comprises various types of flour and has a huge water content, which makes it exceptionally light and easy for us to digest as well as having less calories. The dough rests for a whole 72 hours before it has fully opened up. This is the only way to make the inside light and fluffy while the outside is beautifully crisp.

2. Choose your dough

Original<sup>A|G(w)</sup>
Wheat, soy and rice flour
according to italian recipe

Activated carbon<sup>A|G(w)|1</sup>
Original dough colored black aids digestion

Multigrain<sup>A|G(w)</sup>
Whole grain, soy and rice flour high in fiber
